EASTER EGG HUNT WINNERS

There were over 100 children at Elhel Blabbe and Crescent Park Schools Easter Sunday, to take part in this year's Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Bethel Lions Club. The dash for the most eggs began at 7 a. m. sharp with most parents looking on—wondering what they were doing there at such an hour of the morning. The Easter Bunny was there with a large basket of goodies for all the hunters. The winners at Elhel

Bisbee School were: Anita Kimball and Alec Newell. Anita won a doll's carriage and Alex won a Tonka Winnebago Camper. The winners at Crescent Park School were Jodey Kimball and Daniel Lamontagne. Jodey won a croquet set and Daniel won a Bumper Pool game. Kenneth Pease, Sean Kersey, and Hunter Landers found silver eggs which entitled them to a free pizza at Charlie's Place. The weather did not dampen the spirits of the hiders or the hunters. Everyone enjoyed themselves tremendously and look forward to the arrival of the Easter Bunny next year!

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

As a result of a meeting held last Monday night with representatives from the Office of Civil Emergency Preparedness we found Flood Plain Insurance should be available within three to four weeks. In communities approved, forms will be sent to local insurance agencies where they can be distributed to people interested. As the program progresses more information will be available.

The Assessors will be in session Monday, April 7, at 9 a. m. to accept lists and talk to any taxpayers who wish to come in. They have a meeting scheduled with a representative of an appraisal firm Wednesday, April 2, to discuss revaluation of the town. After the local assessors decide on what they want for specifications, contracts will be offered at bid to various appraisal firms.

The town clerk has open water fishing law books available to those who have already purchased licenses.

The Ambulance Service has a vehicle to use until the new one is delivered. They have installed an alarm system to notify the attendants when they are needed. The number to call is 824-2456.

GREENLEAF AMBULANCE SERVICE TERMINATES AFTER 40 YEARS

Terminated this week was the Greenleaf Ambulance Service, carried on for over 40 years by Greenleaf Funeral Home. Both businesses were founded by Dr. Sherman S. Greenleaf who came to Bethel in 1920, and following his death in 1962, this 24 hour a day service was continued by his son, Eldon.

In 1968, government requirements making private ambulance service prohibitive without financial help from the town and volunteer attendants, Bethel voted a $5,000 yearly subsidy and the Greenleaf Ambulance Service continued with the help of a very efficient and dedicated group of volunteer attendants.

This year Eldon Greenleaf felt he could not continue to furnish the ambulance service, and the Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service began looking into the cost of purchasing an ambulance to serve the area.

At a special town meeting Jan. 23, Bethel voters appropriated the sum of $12,000 and approved the borrowing of additional sums up to $15,000 for the purchase and operation of an ambulance and equipment. The Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service is responsible for maintenance and operation of the vehicle, which is housed at the Bethel Fire Station. The red network telephone system consists of phones in several locations and one may alert the ambulance unit by dialing 824-2456.

Singles, Couples, Four-somes Welcome

Greenwood City — Andover

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

They sang this week! Those purple finishes, in the tree tops declaring this is a good time to be alive.

"On singing bird upon a tree!
Has ever human mind
Contrived to solve the mystery
Of how you are designed!"
—Edgar A. Guest

On a day when the radio was reciting the words I walked to the hills and found though much may be wrong, there are still many things right and in order. Those birds that sang from the trees, my daffodils coming up, the wine-red of the maples soon to bloom, rocks green with moss, and the water now flows rapidly making brooks that sing and move on to the sea. All these simple things are as they have been every April but they are taken for granted. Spring comes and man can do nothing about it. A visit to the mountain side proves it to be so.

The crust was firm as I went up the bulldozer road then turned left to find if I could climb a hill without difficulty. I had a yearning to go somewhere and see what was beyond the bend in the old road.

At the turn toward the upward climb the old vines of the hedge bind weeds were tall and thick. I remembered them as they bloomed last fall twining and trailing with their delicate pink bells which suggest the morning glory.

I pushed through the alders sometimes in the road and sometimes outside. Part way up I stopped beneath the old, old maple. Its main trunk was broken from the top but fourteen huge branches reached out and out in a whirl. I wondered how many spiles had run its sap and how many birds had nested in its branches. Now knarled and misshapen but once masterful in its geometric detail of five-pointed leaves and winged seeds, glorious in fall color.

What had once been a road now looked much like its surroundings, so I just kept climbing. Here grew a few beeches with their tight, smooth trunks of aluminum gray. Everything was growing in harmony; lichens clinging to rotting logs, little seedlings taking root on old stumps or on root balls of fallen trees.

Overhead from time to time I could hear the dull tacking noise of the woodpecker and nuthatch picking on a tree trunk.

I could travel easily so kept up the hill for some distance then turned right to go through the forest toward home. Soon I came to the spring and heard the tinkle of water; what was one rill last fall now had become two or three, braiding out through the woods and marshy depressions and disappearing. I cut through to join the spring road where at the left I could look down on the flat out-sweeping sprays of the hemlocks and the pond in the distance. I stood a moment and just looked and thought about the community of life that surrounded the water, living on, above, and beneath it. Soon the trees will be cloaked in new light green, the air filled with scents and sounds, and wild life everywhere. The ducks will huddle out of the sky and skid along the water's surface then quack contentedly.

We need the change, the renewal of spring whether the days are warm, chilly, or gusty. Yesterday was warm, today was gusty; I wait for tomorrow.

The world is all right; all the troubles are with man.
April whistles from the hilltop.
My heart is high with spring!

Tuesday afternoon Doris Hayes entertained Club Eight at her home.

David Holt is home from U. M. for a week of vacation.
On Monday Doris Hayes and I joined other teachers for supper at Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks, West Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan were in Bethel on Friday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Alton Luxton.
Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Tamminen entertained their families for dinner on Easter Sunday.

Ardell Hayes, Auburn; Duane and Scot Hayes, West Paris; were at the Hayes Homestead on Saturday.

Ann Holt, Bethel; David Holt, and Sharon Jordan were dinner guests Easter Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt's.

Telstar Home Economics Advanced Foods classes celebrated Easter by decorating cakes. Mrs. Chandler's classes learned the art of cake decorating. Each student made a cake of their own. These cakes were brought into class and decorated. These girls experimented with the decorating tubes and tips, making flowers of all kinds, leaves, borders, scallops and writing sayings. After practicing the decorating techniques, the students decorated a cake with their own design. Most of the cakes followed the Easter theme. They were surprised how easy the cake decorating came. And the final product was really good looking....

The week of March 31-April 3 was also a busy one. On Monday the children's main project was making "people posters". Each child cut out different pictures of people. Different sizes, shapes, colors and sexes. The children have also done similar posters on flowers. We also started to germinate various kinds of seeds for transplanting.

On Tuesday we took colored chalk, water and pussy willows, and made some very pretty "pussies". By soaking the chalk in water you can paint the pussy willows. Definitely a "cat of a different color".

Wednesday we were finally able to get out for a post-winter nature walk. Thursday we were unable to have classes as the church basement was used for the clinic. We had 12 of our children attending for immunizations and exams.

Donations have been: Legg's eggs, Debra Learned, Carolyn Brooks and Gemma Morrill; two children's books, Norman Stone; Easter candy and grass, Frances Saunders; Easter Candy, Clukey's

A few people gathered for the informal outdoor Easter Service. It was commented that the sun had risen even though the clouds obscured our view, and it was further observed that the sun had risen although our view is obscured by individual and collective human clouds.

Although Easter Sunday could have been Thanksgiving day weatherwise, we do hope the Easter bunny was good to you all.

We had an early Easter egg hunt at the center right after breakfast on Thursday. The Easter bunny also left each child an Easter egg filled with surprises.

The week of March 24-28th was a very busy and exciting one for our children. On Monday they were taken to Roberts' poultry farm where they were given the grand tour by Mrs. Sheila Harrington. She also gave each child a coloring book and pencil. It's safe to say the children learned a great deal about eggs and chickens. On Tuesday the mothers had a coffee at the center. Judy and Sandra were in Littleton, N. H., visiting the center there. They were very pleased and learned a few new ideas for use in our own center.

On Wednesday the children were taken to Rumford Library where they were warmly welcomed by librarian, Mrs. Wooly, and were shown two films on W. C. Fields and a musical cartoon.

Thursday, of course was our Easter egg hunt.

Cool, snowy, rainy Easter but most of the children gathered at Mrs. Fleet's for our first Sunday School of 1975. Four were away with their parents. Our next meeting April 13.

Mr. Crow has either his last year's family or new friends from the South with him and his mate. They called me just at the edge of daylight yesterday morning. They may of seen an owl.

Dinner guests at Estes Yates Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Yates, West Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carter and family, Bethel; Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Yates and Darnita and Mrs. Myrna Carter, Bethel.

Russell Yates is more comfortable but they expect he will not be home very soon. As he likes mail here is his address: Room 710, Maine Medical Center, Portland.

A telephone call from Tom Yates telling of the largest snow storm of the winter, was ten inches just a day or so before, and he went skiing to pass the time away.

"Let us carry on."

Corinthians 13 says: Love is very patient and kind; never jealous or envious, never boastful nor proud.

Never haughty nor selfish nor rude. Love does not demand its own way. It is not irritable or touchy. It does not hold grudges and will hardly even notice when others do wrong.

It is never glad about injustice, but rejoices when ever truth wins out. If you love someone you will be loyal to him no matter what the cost. You will always believe in him, always expect the best of him and always stand your ground in defending him.

All the special gifts and powers from God will some day come to an end, but love goes on forever.

This is what we all experienced from all our friends and relatives in Bethel, Andover, Norway, South Paris, and other surrounding areas. Our heartfelt thanks to each one.
